

U.S. Army Corporal Jimmie Shohara, formerly of the Manzanar Relocation Center in California.
Ansel Adams 1943

Kay Fukoda, who was incarcerated at the Manzanar camp in California, volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army Nurse Corps.
Ansel Adams 1943

Army Sergeant Kazuo Komoto shows his Purple Heart to his brother, Susumu, during a visit to the Gila River camp, where his family is confined.
Unidentified photographer October 31, 1943

Army Captain Jerry P. Tobin swears in a group of Nisei men from the Granada camp in Colorado for service in the army.
Tom Parker December 12, 1942

Lunch hour at the Raphael Weill Public School in San Francisco, California.
Dorothea Lange April 17, 1942

Children pledge allegiance to the flag at the Raphael Weill Public School in San Francisco.
Dorothea Lange April 20, 1942

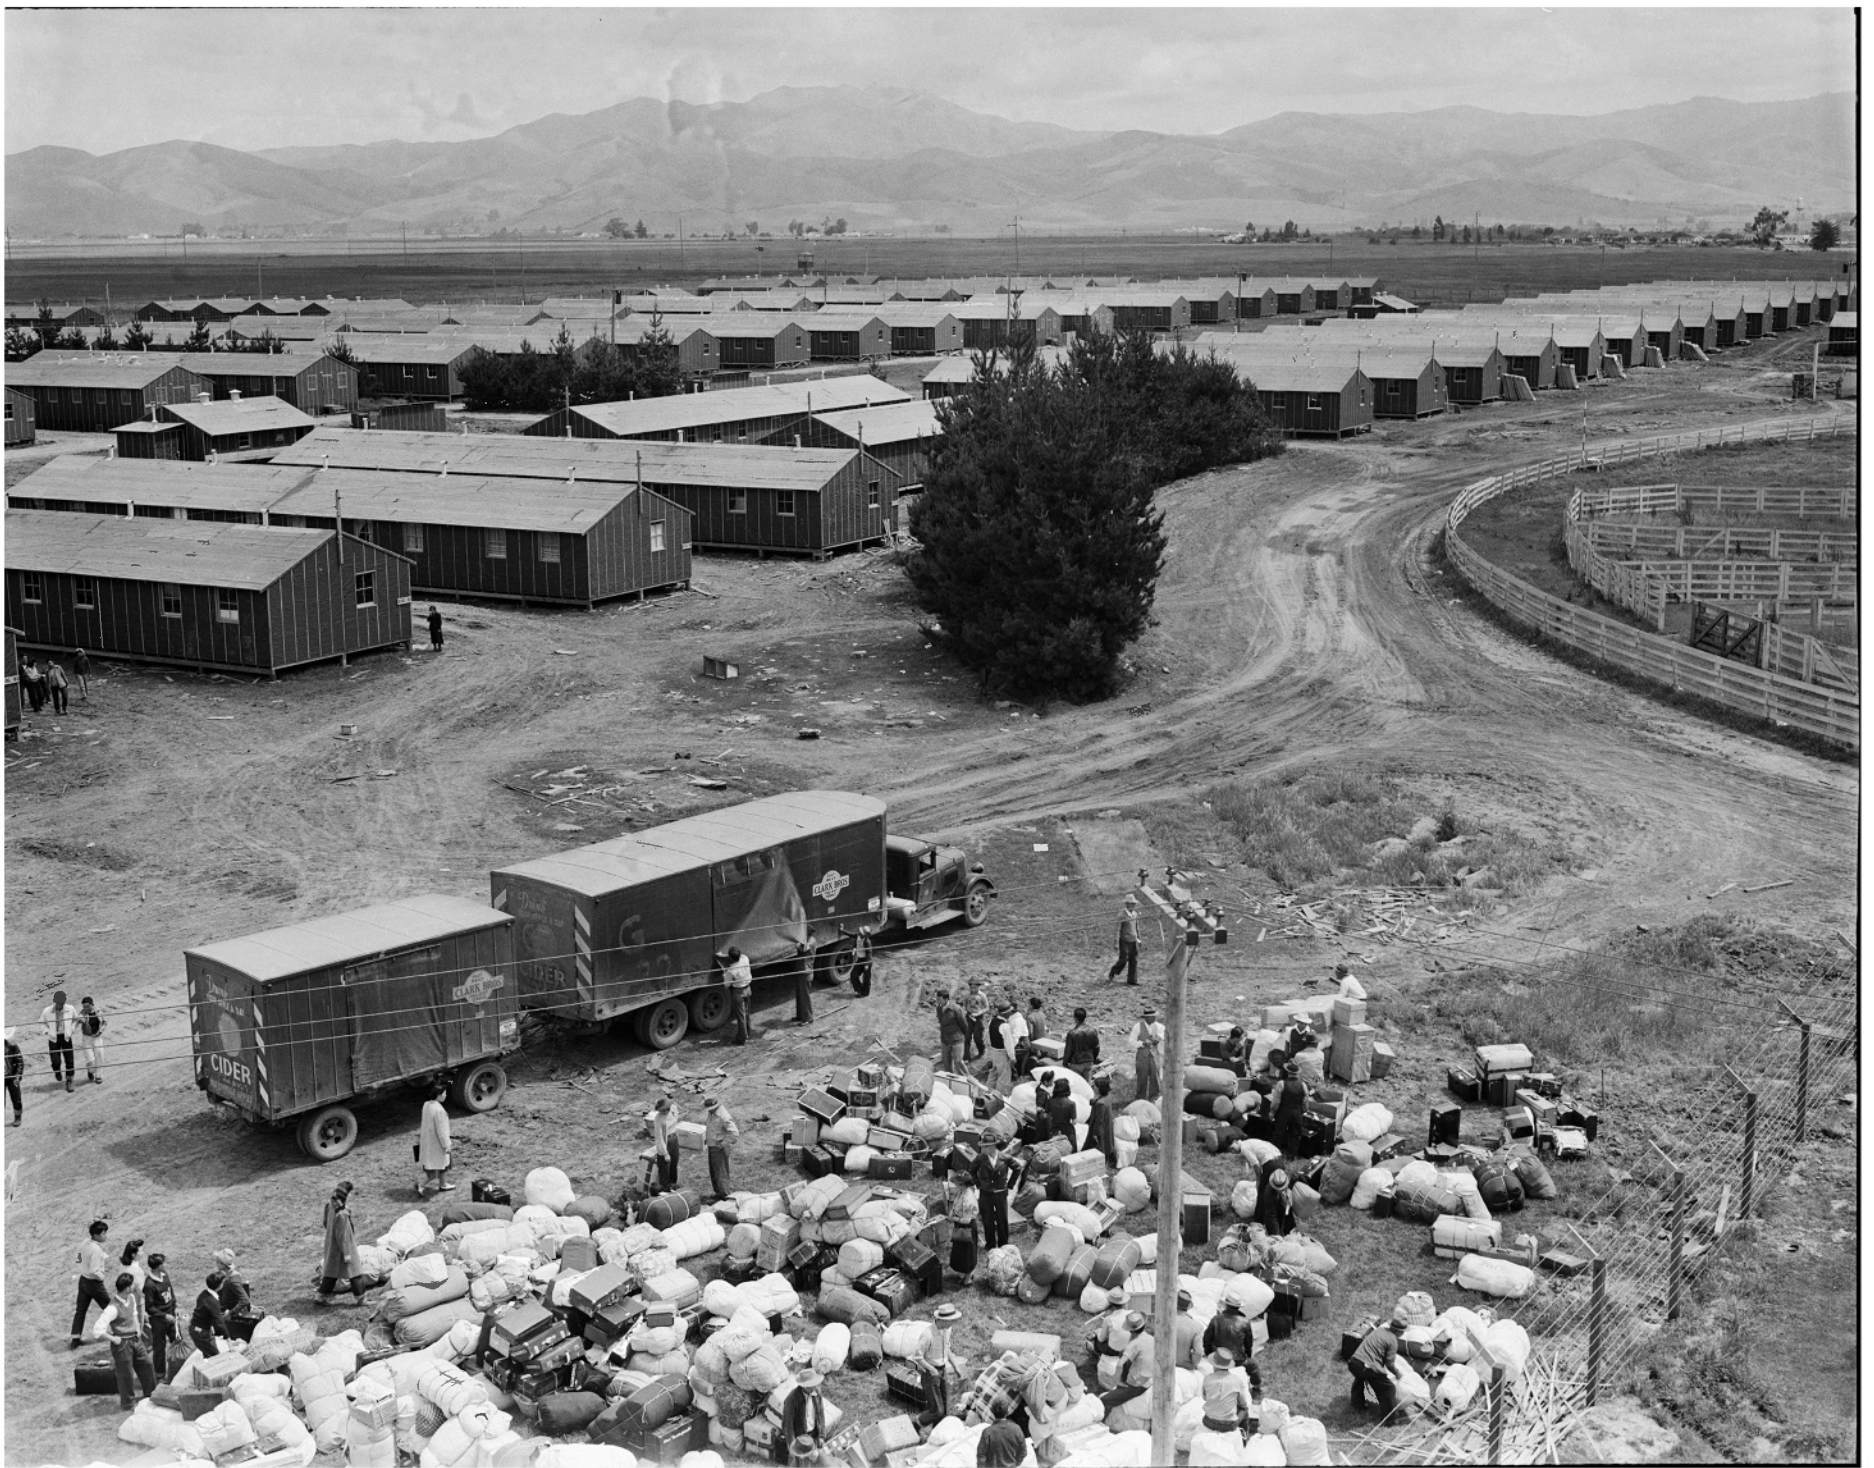

The Shibuya family outside their Mountain View, California, home. Mr. and Mrs. Shibuya, who came to the U.S. in 1904 with $60, established a prosperous flower business.
Dorothea Lange April 18, 1942

Soldiers assist a blind man and an infirm man as they exit an "evacuation" train in Lone Pine, California. The men will soon board a bus for a short drive to an "assembly center."
Clem Albers April 1, 1942

View of the housing barracks at the Salinas Assembly Center. Baggage belonging to newly arrived “evacuees” is piled in the foreground. Clem Albers 1942

Newly arrived families search for their possessions amid piles of baggage unloaded from trucks at the Salinas Assembly Center.
Clem Albers March 31, 1942

Young “evacuees” wait for their baggage to be inspected upon arrival at the Turlock Assembly Center.
Dorothea Lange May 2, 1942

View of the barracks at the Salinas Assembly Center. In the foreground, baggage belonging to "evacuees" is being unloaded from trucks.
Clem Albers April 29, 1942

New arrivals form a line at the Santa Anita Assembly Center.
Clem Albers April 6, 1942

4-5-42 B-414
"induction" 14
FROM CAMP A-100
"Evacuees" arrive under guard at the Santa Anita Assembly Center.
Clem Albers April 5, 1942

Anxious residents wait outside a "civil control station" in San Francisco where they will be given instructions for their "evacuation day."
Dorothea Lange April 25, 1942

Business owner in San Francisco advertises a half-price sale prior to his "evacuation."
Dorothea Lange April 4, 1942

Sign publicizing "new management" outside a San Francisco restaurant sold by a Japanese American owner facing "evacuation."
Dorothea Lange April 7, 1942

First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt and War Relocation Authority Director Dillon Myer pose with “evacuees” during the First Lady’s visit to the Gila River Relocation Center.
Francis Stewart April 23, 1943

Flag raising ceremony performed during a three-day July 4th celebration at the Rohwer Relocation Center in Arkansas.
Fred Yamaguchi July 5, 1943

Primary and secondary schools were established in all of the camps. This third grade class was part of the school at the Rohwer Relocation Center in Arkansas.

Tom Parker November 22, 1942

Boys on a windswept field at the Manzanar Relocation Center.
Dorothea Lange July 2, 1942

A new arrival in his living quarters at the Manzanar camp.
Clem Albers April 2, 1942

New arrivals at the Granada Relocation Center in Colorado register for housing.
Tom Parker August 25, 1942