Alexander Sachs

DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLECTION

This collection consists of Alexander Sachs' office files generated by his work for Walter Meyer, the Lehman Corporation, various government agencies and departments, and his clients. There are some files concerning financial and family matters and non-economic subjects of personal interest to Alexander Sachs including ancient history, the Middle East, science, philosophy and religion.

The papers are arranged in eleven different series, following the filing procedures used in his office. These series are: correspondence files; subject files; reports, studies and memoranda; economic charts and statistics; chronological file; unfinished work and notes; economic extracts; government publications; desiderata; clients file; and financial matters.

Periodically, the office files were culled of inactive files to be sent to storage. These storage files have been reintegrated into the collection.

The series of reports, studies and memoranda was created during the processing of the collection to contain those items which had been water damaged prior to their arrival at the Library. During the water damage and resultant restoration processes, the office file designations for these items were removed.

All of the series are interconnected. For example, although the bulk of the papers relating to one of Mr. Sachs' clients will be in the client's file, correspondence with a company official may be in the correspondence file, a study on the client's type of business may be in the reports, studies and memoranda file, charts for that report may be among the economic charts and statistics, carbon copies of letters from Mr. Sachs to a company official may be in the chronological file, extracts of articles published by the company may be in the economic extracts, and government publications may have been used to compile reports to the company. Some of the related items are cross-referenced.

A small amount of correspondence from Alexander Sachs to Sidney B. Lurie was given to the Library by Mr. Lurie in 1983. These items have been placed in the correspondence file: Lurie, Sidney B.
