SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 2006 AT THE
HENRY A. WALLACE CENTER AT THE FDR PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY AND HOME

In partnership with the National Constitution Center's annual I Signed the Constitution program, the Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum is celebrating Constitution Day on Sunday, September 17, 2006. The FDR Presidential Library will make a copy of the U.S. Constitution available to the general public, inviting citizens to publicly acknowledge their dedication to the ideals of our governing document, which has formed the basis of the oldest constitutional government in the world. The Constitution display and signing area will be set up in the Henry A. Wallace Center at the FDR Presidential Library and Home.

The Constitution Center's I Signed the Constitution program has taken place annually for the last fifteen years in cooperation with the National Archives and Records Administration and other agencies. It includes events across the country designed to encourage Americans to affirm their rights and responsibilities as citizens and to learn more about their Constitution.

The Wallace Center is open from 9:00 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. There is no charge to come in and sign the Constitution. Please contact Cliff Laube at (845) 486-7745 or email clifford.laube@nara.gov with any questions about the I Signed the Constitution program.

The Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum is dedicated to preserving historical material and providing innovative educational programs, community events, and public outreach. It is one of twelve presidential libraries administered by the National Archives and Records Administration.
